

Tofu Pot

God bless lazy people!

I was too lazy to make meat balls now, but still bought some ground meat because of the protein it contains.

Today! I found a great way to use ground meat!

Cooking Angel!

You can just put tofu and ground meat with some magical ingredients in the soup, and even add some vegetables!

If you put an egg into the soup, try to make it 60% cooked so that the egg yolk is still soft in the center, will be even better.

Don't forget rice! Then, it's done! Tasty!
