

CAN'T BELIEVE IT!

So excited! Can't believe I can still fly to London on time! Both my manager and I thought I wouldn't get my PR card before June 19. But! The card has been delivered this morning, then in the early afternoon, my manager said, "Let's book the flight and the hotel for you, so that you can fly to London tomorrow!" Our project manager is also very kind. He gave me a package with his name printed on it... and said "You have a package". I was confused but opened the package. Wow! It's a London traveling book! I'm flying to London tomorrow!
