

THE TEAR FROM THE OCEAN

It's another today
I travelled such a long distance with my quiet memories, to see what's happening on your balcony, again

Sitting there, hoping to capture any sign of you, the same as what I did in the last 1000+ days

It's a special today
Your balcony is no longer empty
I saw a smile there She's from your world

I'm from the ocean, a world where I need to travel a lot before I find a home,
a world where even my sorrow is transparent, a world where I was born to be different from you, and I can never get close to you

Goodbye
