A Foodie's Little Joy - Chocolate Biscuits

I seldom trust images printed on the box of food. Those images either look much larger than the real size, or contain much more ingredients than the real food.

So, when I saw this box of biscuits and its prices, my expectation was not very high.

In my imagination, it may have some chocolate flavor, or has a very thin layer of chocolate on the surface.

To my surprise! Indeed! It looks the same as the image! 🎉🎉
